Award-Winning Publication Available for Online Viewing

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C. — The latest issue of Gardner-Webb The Magazine is available for viewing on the web. For the latest University news and features available in the publication, click here.

The issue highlights several recent events, including an inside look into the historic season of the men's basketball team. Other features include:

- Over $46 Million Raised in Higher Ground Campaign;
- GWU Celebrates Two Decades of School of Divinity;
- National Honor Presented to Head Baseball Coach Rusty Stroupe;
- GWU Trustee and Divinity School Student Both Now Working for the Governor;
- Student/Alumni Success Stories; and
- Much, much more!

Gardner-Webb The Magazine was recently named an award-winner for writing excellence by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) District III, which serves the southeastern United States. The magazine (Vol. 46, Number 2) was honored with a CASE District III Award of Excellence in Publications Writing at their annual conference, held in Atlanta, Ga. earlier this year.

“As always, the magazine offers stories on the people who best represent Gardner-Webb through their faith, service and leadership,” said Noel Manning, chief communications officer for GWU and managing editor of Gardner-Webb The Magazine.

Located in Boiling Springs, N.C., Gardner-Webb University seeks a higher ground in higher education – one that embraces faith and intellectual freedom, and inspires in students a love of learning, service, and leadership.
